

Written by Aksyutin Yu.
Tuesday, 07 July 2020 15:10

Aksyutin Yu.

Activity of the Moscow council of workers deputies in 1917–1918. Documents of the Central State archive of Moscow region

Annotation

The article contains the review of documents of Moscow council of workers and soldiers (later red army) deputies in Central State archives of Moscow region, describing initial problems of existence of this power institute, characterizing staff of deputy corps, social peculiarities of ordinary deputies, “lower layer” (mostly professional workers) and high class, members of Executive committee (mostly people with high educational level), changing of its political colors (bolshevization in 1917 and back trend in 1918), accompanied by intensification of repressions both against socialist parties and against unsatisfied workers.

Written by Aksyutin Yu.

Tuesday, 07 July 2020 15:10

Keywords

Archive, sources, Moscow council of workers deputies, deputy questionnaires and mandates, requisitions, sabotage, terror

Download the article: pdf

About author

Aksyutin Yuri Vasilievich – professor at The Moscow State Regional University, PhD in History, Moscow; 8-495-688-71-95, 8-903-132-82-44; aksyutin37@mail.ru

You can read completely article in the russian historic-archival magazine “The Herald of an Archivist”. Read more about terms of subscription here .

Полностью материал публикуется в российском историко-архивоведческом

Written by Aksyutin Yu.

Tuesday, 07 July 2020 15:10

журнале ВЕСТНИК АРХИВИСТА. Ознакомьтесь с условиями подписки здесь .