

Palace of Grand Duke Nicholas Constantinovich in Tashkent

Written by Кирилл
Sunday, 31 May 2020 12:43

Asatova G.R.

Palace of Grand Duke Nicholas Constantinovich in Tashkent

Annotation

In the article on the basis of archival sources it is told about life and activity of Grand Duke Nicholas Constantinovich (1850-1918) – the son of Grand Duke Konstantin Nikolaevich and Grand Duchess Aleksandra Iosifovna, are generalized and the sources about the palace of the grand duke in Tashkent and destiny of their owners are introduced into scientific rotation.

Keywords

Source, Grand Duke Nicholas Constantinovich, palace, architectural projection, work of art,

Tashkent architecture, museum, synthesis of East and West traditions

Download the article: pdf

About author

Asatova Gulsara Rashidovna - associate professor at the Department of History of Uzbekistan of the Uzbek State Institute of Physical Culture, Ph.D. in History, Tashkent, Republic of Uzbekistan; 8-3-712-68-93; grasat@rambler.ru , grasat@mail.ru

References

Вся история искусства. Живопись, архитектура, скульптура, декоративное искусство. М.: Астрель, 2008.

Свирский А. История моей жизни. М., 1947.

Победа Великой Октябрьской социалистической революции в Туркестане. Сборник документов. Ташкент, 1947.

You can read completely article in the russian historic-archival magazine “The Herald of an Archivist”. Read more about terms of subscription here .

Полностью материал публикуется в российском историко-архивоведческом журнале ВЕСТНИК АРХИВИСТА. Ознакомьтесь с условиями подписки здесь .