

Gentshke V.L., Sabennikova I.V., Lovtsov A.S.

Foreign Archival Rossica in published documents: analysis, structure, statistics

Annotation

In the article the publications of documents in the field of foreign archival Rossica in Russian magazines and serial publications for the period of 2005-2012 have been analyzed. 118 publications of sources from foreign archives, libraries, museums, private collections have been identified and analyzed. The archaeographical publication of documents may help to reveal full information potential of sources. The publications of the collections of documents are especially significant among the analyzed documents because they deal with the comprehensive research of the huge amount of collections from different archives. This research makes available to collect a wide range of material which contributes to the expression of a more broad view of the problem. The sizeable portion of published documents includes correspondence, memoirs, reports containing the analysis of situation in Soviet Russia and Red Army which were written by military experts, diplomats, managers, politicians. The huge publications of not previously been published manuscripts, articles, reports written by historians, publicists, writers are especially significant. The documents related to the status of Russian emigrants and their relations with foreign officials are important for the research of life of Russian Diaspora. The statistical analysis of the researched publications have given an opportunity to study what archives, countries and continents had been mostly represented in the publications. We have come to a conclusion that during the period considered in this article the archives from Europe (63,8%) and America (29%) had been mostly represented. The statistical analysis of publications of documents from archives, libraries, museums, private collections from different European countries also have been made. The publications which have been analyzed include documents related to life and activities of Russian emigrants abroad, different public associations etc. The bulk of published documents is related to history of the Russian emigration of the 20th century, especially it's first wave after the Revolution of 1917. The amount of published sources related to the previous periods of Russian history is rather small.

Written by Gentshke V.L., Sabennikova I.V., Lovtsov A.S.

Tuesday, 16 June 2020 15:39

---

The analyzed information shows the frequency of documentary publications from particular archives and also may reveal the so-called “white spots” of foreign archival Rossika and determine the future directions of the research activities.

Keywords

Russian diaspora, foreign archival Rossika, geographical locations of foreign archival Rossika, publication of archival documents.

Download the article: pdf

References

1. "Sovershenno lichno I doveritelno!": B.A. Bakhmetev – V.A. Maklakov. Perepiska, 1919-1951 ["Strictly personal and confidential!": B.A. Bakhmetev – V.A. Maklakov. Correspondence, 1919-1951]. Ed. by O.V. Budnitskiy; Preface by T. Emmons: Hoover Institution of War, Revolution and Peace, Stanford Univ.; Russian Academy of Sciences. Institute of Russian History. – Vol. 1. – 2001. 568 p., vol. 2. – 2002. 670 p., vol. 3. – 2002. 672 p.
2. Spor o Rossii: V.A. Maklakov – V.V. Shulgin. Perepiska, 1919-1939 [Debate about Russia V. A. Maklakov and V. V. Shulgin. Correspondence, 1919-1939]. Ed. by O.V. Budnitskiy. – Moscow: ROSSPEN Publ., 2012. – 439 p.
3. Ryabushinskiy M.P. Smutnye gody. Hronika. [Years of Uncertainty. Chronicle]. Ed. by Kogan E., Kasinets E. Klio, 2011, №1(52), pp. 131-147.

About authors

Gentshke Valeriya Lvovna, Doctor of History, All-Russia Research Institute of documents study and archive business (VNIIDAD), Senior Researcher, Russian Federation, Moscow, 8-916-156-01-42, vlgent@mail.ru

Sabennikova Irina Vyacheslavovna, Doctor of History, All-Russia Research Institute of documents study and archive business (VNIIDAD), Head of the Sector of Use of Archival Documents, Russian Federation, Moscow, 8-495-334-48-69, sabennikova@mail.ru

Written by Gentshke V.L., Sabennikova I.V., Lovtsov A.S.
Tuesday, 16 June 2020 15:39

---

Lovtsov Aleksei Sergeevich, Candidate of History, All-Russia Research Institute of documents study and archive business (VNIIDAD), Senior Researcher, Russian Federation, Moscow, 8-967-108-72-18, aleksei.lovtsov@yandex.ru

You can read completely article in the russian historic-archival magazine “The Herald of an Archivist”. Read more about terms of subscription here .

Полностью материал публикуется в российском историко-архивоведческом журнале ВЕСТНИК АРХИВИСТА. Ознакомьтесь с условиями подписки здесь .